

The 26th Japan Mountain Endurance Race Hasegawa Tsuneo Cup (HASETSUNE CUP)

To all participants:

Thank you for your participation in the 26th Japan Mountain Endurance Race (HASETSUNE CUP).

This brochure provides the participants with information to help preparing for the race. Please read it thoroughly.

The course of the race is very rough and lengthy consisting of a series of peaks in Okutama mountainous area, with the altitude of 1,000 meters to 1,500 meters. You need to put up with numerous steep ascents and descents at day and night, and challenge your own limits.

Each entrant must complete the entire course under his/her own strength, and may not accept aid or assistance in any form from anyone. To this end, you must carry all equipment including clothes, foods, and beverages by yourself and may not be supported by anyone except at the 2nd check point, where you will be receiving 1.5L water aid.

It is important for each entrant to recognize the potential physical and mental stresses which may occur during the race. Adequate physical and mental conditioning prior to the race is necessary. Much of the trail is remote and inaccessible by motor vehicle.
